According to the author Ben F. Gray:

This book is the result of years of being in God's laboratory, gaining understanding, revelation and insight as step-by-step, the Holy Spirit has led me to create a seminar that would enable followers of Christ to understand and become all that God intended them to be.

Then the challenge came, in how to create local gatherings of church that reflected these discoveries as well as releasing believers to 'be the church' in their life, family and work.

With many steps back as well as forward, the journey of the past 7 years has brought a deeper understanding of the kingdom of God, His church and His grace. Five years ago I started to write this revelation down. Heaven's Answer to Earth's Dilemma is the result. My seminar - Vocations 4 Life - is also in the final stages of being available worldwide. Information on this groundbreaking seminar can be found at www.vocations4life.com.
